

Let me ask you something that I probably already know the answer to...

Have you ever been out in a bar or restaurant, seen a woman that you wanted to talk to, but just couldn't find the right thing to say? Or even worse, you had yourself convinced from the start that you wouldn't have the right thing to say - so you didn't even get up the nerve to try? Did you ever have a few drinks and finally convince yourself you had a great pickup line, but at the end of the night you were still walking out of the place alone and embarrassed?

When you see an attractive woman in "non-pickup" places like the supermarket or a store, do you have even more excuses why you can't or shouldn't say something ... and do you convince yourself that the excuses flying around in your head are valid? Do you hear "the voice" that even helps you come up with all the reasons not to talk to a woman?

"This isn't a place to pick up women... She's not interested in talking to a guy in this kind of place... I'm not all dressed up to make an approach... she wouldn't go out with someone who shops in this kind of store..." and the opportunity just walks away while you're staring at the goods.

Like I said, I already know the answer. Because the vast majority of guys everywhere in the world have had that same damned voice in their head holding them back from meeting and talking to women for most of their lives.

For some guys, the same old excuse gets in the way of meeting a hundred different women. For others, there's a hundred new excuses for not talking to the same cute woman they see every day in the office or at the coffee shop on the way to work. The excuses stop you from "getting the digits" of a babe you're crazy-hot for, or they stop you from being able to talk to different women before you can figure out if they're hot or not.

Whatever your excuses are, and whatever the details are of which excuses cost you the chance at which woman, the point is that you know for sure that those excuses flying around in your head have screwed up your chances with hundreds of women. Maybe even the woman of your life.

How would you like to take that voice and those doubts out of your head just like you take the trash out of your house?

Let me share with you a story from one of my clients. When you read this I want you to think back on all of the missed opportunities in your life, and what your excuse was for not approaching the woman you wanted to meet:

(INSERT CLIENT FAILURE STORY)

How did you feel reading this guy's story? I already know. You felt sorry for that guy because you remember all the times you were in the same situation. Because that guy didn't have the right skills and knowledge, his fear of rejection cost him the opportunity to convert a chance meeting into an intriguing romantic encounter.

Fear of rejection is very powerful... but it's a negative power that has been holding you back for years. What if I told you that I could teach you an easy to learn method for you to overcome that fear? What if you could learn exactly how to shut off that doubting voice in your head that comes up with all those damned excuses?

Here are the most common excuses for not approaching an attractive woman that I hear over and over throughout my 9 years of coaching men and women:

(INSEERT LIST OF EXCUSES)

Now imagine for just one second that after years of practice and hard knocks I finally figured out how to push all those same fears and excuses out of my head and succeed with meeting women.

- Imagine if I could show you how to eliminate all of those same fears and excuses.
- Imagine if I could teach you how to stop thinking about the fear and start having a conversation with that hottie you were afraid to even look at last week.

Now stop imagining... because I did figure it out and I did become a success with women. Stop dreaming about having those skills - I will teach those skills to you for life!

I've put together an amazing XX hour audio presentation called No More Excuses that does just that ! I actually de-construct each of those harmful, self-destructive excuses and teach you how to eliminate those fears in your head before you even think about approaching a woman. After you absorb and internalize this powerful knowledge and practice my time-proven techniques, you'll approach any attractive woman without any fear or hesitation.

The number one excuse most men have for "chickening out" before approaching a pretty woman is not knowing what to say... and then looking stupid fumbling for the words. In this awesome skill-building presentation, I walk you through step by step how to overcome all approach fears... and help you develop a powerful, all-knowing mindset that radiates confidence when you walk up to any hot-looking woman you want to meet.

Here's a secret that most men don't think about: Mindset is the biggest make-or-break factor in attracting and meeting any woman ! But nobody invests enough time or effort into building a confident mindset for themselves.

Do you want to know why I'm so good at walking up to women and making an instant connection? The reason is because I don't care what they think about me... which makes me a lot more attractive to them than they are to me!

Let me repeat that... it's really important. I am going to teach you to build and maintain a powerful and confident mindset. This is what creates the ability for you to walk up to a pretty woman, get her interested in you, and have a great conversation. By absorbing and practicing my amazingly effective education and training exercises, you will master the art of:

- How to start a real conversation without using corny “pick up lines”
- How to meet new people every day, in your own surroundings, without changing your daily routine
- How to project and radiate inner confidence
- How to master the critical “2 second rule”
- How you can (and must) stop thinking about what they’re thinking
- The one word that works when you’re really nervous
- The last thing you must say before you walk away to intrigue her even more
- What she’s really thinking in her head and how to take advantage of this power
- Why you should approach when you’re the most nervous
- What happens after “hello” and how to save the conversation
- How to turn off the voice in your head that’s been costing you dates for so long
- The 3 things that build your confidence in all approach situations
- How to project a more attractive image to the people around you
- How to overcome the excuses that prevent you from meeting new people
- How to meet more people faster, so you won’t put so much importance onto any one encounter
- The best places and times to meet the kind of people you want to meet
- How to let go of your fears and just say "hello"
- How to relax and just be open to what the moment brings
- How and when to wrap up the conversation and ask for a phone number or a date.

My No More Excuses audio presentation is a life-changing educational experience you can use immediately, plus absorb and practice the concepts over and over again. You'll learn powerful lifetime skills, not cheap pick-up lines and sleazy "tactics". The confidence I'll help you create is genuine and powerful.

It's about time you finally got that terrifying, disappointing part of your life under control. Don't spend one more day without the skills and power to improve the most important part of your life. Don't let one more BS excuse keep you from having successful encounters with attractive women!
